HARVEST
nourishing our communities

In 1985, Harvest Manitoba was founded on the hope that food banks would one day no longer be needed. And yet forty years later, food insecurity continues to rise, with over 60,000 Manitobans relying on a food bank in a single month.

While the need has never been greater, neither has our determination to respond. This year, we welcomed new food banks, schools, and community partners into our network to expand access to nutritious food across Manitoba.

We are also taking an important step toward the future with plans for the Manitoba Food Transformation Centre. This once-in-a-generation investment will double our food distribution capacity, rescue millions more pounds of edible food, strengthen Manitoba's agri-food sector, and create new pathways to employment.

Thank you to our incredible community of supporters. None of this work would be possible without you. Together, we're building a healthier future for all where no Manitoban goes hungry.
